ARTIFICIAL GAS TO BE USED IN "BLEND" WITH THE NATURAL

Equitable Gas Company Already Experimenting In This New Field

PLANT OPERATING AT ELRAMA

The substitution of artificial for natural gas on a considerable scale in the near future was predicted on Wednesday at a conference held in Pittsburg under the auspices of the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania. The Philadelphia Company, as developed, is already prepared to supply 7,000,000 cubic feet a day, and in the near future will be in a position to supply 30,000,000 cubic feet.

This announcement was made by John Gates, attorney for the Equitable Gas Company a subsidiary of the Philadelphia Company. It was accompanied by the statement that any decidedly cold weather will be accompanied by a shortage of gas. This shortage will be made up to domestic consumers by shutting off the supply from manufacturing plants and by the new supply of artificial gas.

This gas has already been used to a limited extent in connection with "blend" which is said to be little, if any; inferior to the pure natural gas in heat units. It was admitted, however, that if natural gas was used in too great proportions in the mixture there would be a serious loss in the heat value of the units.

The Equitable Gas Company has already in operation at Elrama an experimental plant for the manufacture of gas and it is there testing out a plan of supplementing with artificial gas its supply of natural gas. It is the intention of this company to increase its artificial gas supply year by year as the needs of its domestic consumers may require. Its plans call for the construction of plants for the manufacture of artificial gas in quantities which will increase in proportion to the depletion of the natural gas fields.

SECOND EUCHRE A SPLENDID SUCCESS

The second euchre of the series was held in St. Jerome's Lyceum Thursday evening and despite the bitter cold night the attendance was large. Favors were awarded Mrs. William Popp, Sr., Mrs. John Maines, Misses Anna Sullivan, Minnie Schmieler and Messrs James Dolan, William Urben, Sr., Anthony Murphy, Frank Rigby.

There will be a meeting of the Directors of the Needlework Guild at the home of Mrs. Louis Collins, 208 Washington avenue on Wednesday evening, January 15.

"OLD DOBBIN" NOT GET A BACK NUMBER

In spite of the fact that hundreds of motor trucks and autos are used for a commercial purpose in every community, Washington county has a total of 13,168 horses, which are valued at $1,139,715. According to these figures Old Dobbin has not yet reached the end of his usefulness.

DISTRICTS SHOWN A BIG COAL ACREAGE

According to the triennial assessment just announced from the county commissioners' office, West Bethlehem township has more acres of coal than any other district in the county 25,152 acres having been returned by the assessors, with a total valuation of $4,974,980 or an average of $195 per acre.

Next in point of value is West Pike Run township, although its coal acreage is but one-third of West Bethlehem. The figures for this township are 8,195 acres of coal with a valuation of $3,553,960 or an average of about $418 per acre.

The third township in the county in point of coal valuation is Amwell although the coal acreage is almost as large as West Bethlehem. The assessors return 24,359 acres of coal with a valuation of $3,154,160

Other townships in the county which have a valuation of over two million dollars are Cecil, Centerville, North Strabane, Nottingham and South Franklin.

RED CROSS ASKS FOR YARN AND GARMENTS

The Charleroi Chapter of the American Red Cross asks that all garments, finished and unfinished, being made from yarn supplied by the Red Cross, as well as all unused yarn, be returned to the work rooms at the Elks Home, not later than Friday, January 17. Miss Nutt will be at the work rooms every day until 5 o'clock up to that date, who will receive the yarn, as well as all garments The local Chapter urges that this request be complied with on or before that time.

The Ingathering of the Needlework Guild of America will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, January 14 and 15, at 407 Fallowfield Avenue. All those who wish to contribute for the poor of Charleroi may leave the articles at the above named time and place. All articles must be new. 184-t3-*

15th Engineers Will Return Home Very Soon

A rumor which prevailed to some extent in Charleroi on Thursday that the Fifteenth Engineers, in which a number of Charleroi men are serving, had arrived in this country from France, was without foundation. This is shown by the fact that Representative Clyde M. Kelly of Braddock, was on Thursday informed by the War Department that the Fifteenth Engineers will return home in the near future. The war department has no date for the embarkation of the men, but an early decision as to the time the men will return is expected.

The Fifteenth Engineers were recruited under the direction of Brigadier General Edgar Jadwin, at that time a Colonel of Engineers and in charge of the waterways of western Pennsylvania. Its ranks are made up principally of men from Pittsburg and adjoining towns and it has been in service in France for a period of over eighteen months. It proved itself to be a most effective unit, and was given many important and difficult assignments during the war, all of which were carried out to the entire satisfaction of their officers. The return of the Fifteenth will be a source of much gratification to hundreds of families in the Pittsburg district.

Important Coal Case Decided By Supreme Court

A very important opinion, confirming the common pleas court of Greene county, was handed down by the State Supreme Court a few days ago. This opinion will have an important bearing on the development of coal lands in Greene county as well as other sections of the valley, as it determines and fixes the rights of coal companies as to eminent domain.

The case was that of Emra L. Titus against the Poland Coal Company, an action in ejectment.

Twenty years ago Emra Titus sold to John C. Neff and others 150.679 acres of the nine foot vein of coal underlying a part of his farm in Monongahela township, Greene county. The entire farm contained 168 acres.

Later J. V. Thompson and J. P. Brennen, became the sole owners of the coal and transferred it to the Poland Coal company, which acquired a block of coal adjoining all aggregating 1,100 acres.

On October 30, 1912, the Poland Coal Company presented a petition asking that viewers be appointed to assess damages to Emra L Titus for about 15 acres of land, on which the company desired to erect a tramway, an engine house and other buildings. This land of Mr. Titus was not overlying any coal owned by the Ploand Coal company, and embraced that which was excluded from the deed when he conveyed his coal

Mr. Titus objected to the seizure of the property, for the reason that he had other veins of coal which he wished to operate, on the land in question, and an appeal was taken by him to the superior court. In the appeal it was argued that the Act of 1911, giving to coal companies or operators the right of eminent domain was unconstitutional and this view was held by the Superior Court, the decision of the lower court being reversed.

In the meantime the Poland Coal company had taken possession of the land, erected buildings, a shaft, etc, upon it at a cost of probably $30,000.

At the June term, 1916, Mr. Titus brought an action in ejectment against the company in the common pleas court of Greene county, and Judge Ray presiding, decided in favor of Mr. Titus, the plaintiff, filing an opinion in the case. An appeal was taken to the supreme court by the Poland Coal company and Judge Ray's decision was sustained. Mr. Titus now regains full possession of the land.

The Germans got into their present mess by being bullies and bowing down to arch-bullies. They think they can get out of it merely by talking piously and looking democratic, quite ignoring the necessity of a surgical operation.

Monessen Man Was The Prosecutor In Assault Case

WERE ASSAULTED ON HIGHWAY

It will be remembered that on Monday night, Dec. 19, Mr. Check and his chauffeur, William Trendalishi, were returning to Monessen from Star Junction, where they had conducted a funeral. While coming up the Fayette City hill they passed another machine driven my Mr. Dunlevy in which Popp and Gardner were passengers. After passing the Dunlevy car, Check testified he felt something strike his car in the rear. He stopped and went back to examine, when he was set upon by Popp and his companions. The result was he was shot twice and when he called for help, Thendalishi who responded, was badly beaten as well as Check. Both men had to be taken to the Monongahela hospital for treatment, Check being discharged but as hort time ago.

At the hearing Thursday Check was represented by Hugh E Fergus, Esq., of Charleroi and the testimony of Mr. Check was substantially as indicated above. Only his side of the story was presented, after hearing which Justice Sisley held the three accused men for the Fayette county court, and they gave bail for their appearance at some future term.

COUNTY'S BIG WEALTH IN COAL HOLDINGS

According to the triennial assessment of Washington county there are 359,638 acres of coal land in the county, with an assessment valuation of $50,208,443. If each of these acres is capable of producing 5,000 tons, which would be at the average rate of one thousand tons per foot per acre, it would make a total tonnage of 1,798,190,000 certainly figures of imposing proportions.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by Dr. Edgar A. Elmore, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Chattanooga at 8 o'clock, December 28, 1918. The ring ceremony was used. Only the family of the bride was present. The bride is a popular leader in the younger set at Chattanooga and has been active in War Community Service and Red Cross Work. MONARCHY'S WORST YEAR

In the annals of monarchy, 1918 will always stand out as the year of the big smash. No [illegible] saw [illegible]

Other years have their [illegible] their famines, their floods, their great holocausts and their big wars, but 1918 will stand out as the year of the toppling of tyranny in all history.

Czar Nick set the style for monarchistic Europe when he suddenly ended early in 1917. Constantine of Greece gave impetus to the regeneration a few months later. Then King Ferdinand of Bulgaria threw up his job. But it took the collapse of the German empire to complete the kingly debacle.

Following closely the flight of Kaiser Wilhelm to Holland in November came the stepping down and out of these rulers:

King Wilhelm II of Wurtemburg; King Freidrich August III of Saxony; King Ludwig III of Bavaria; Duke Ernest August of Brunswick; Grand Duke Freidrich August of Oldenburg; Grand Duke Freidrich Franz IV of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Prince Heinrich of Russ; Grand Duke William Ernst of Saxe-Weimer; Prinz Leopold of Lippe-Detmold; Prinz Freidrich of Waldeck-Pyrmont; Prinz Adolphe of Schaumburg-Lippe; Duke Charles Edward of Saxe-Coburg and Grand Duke Freidrich II of Baden.

And but for the entrance of Uncle Sam into the world war with his 2,000,000 soldiers and his $17,000,000,000 of Liberty Bonds to back them up, probably all but one or two of these rulers would yet be sitting tight on their thrones.

Democracy would have been well nigh a memory.

For democracy as represented in American would have been the next target.

Now a greater measure of liberty than Europe has ever known is open to these peoples. All that is needed is the hand to guide them along the path aright.

And the hand that set the wheels in motion must see the thing through. That hand is Uncle Sam's.

Remember this in considering the next Liberty Loan.

GOING DRY

Up until Thursday morning twenty-two states had ratified the proposed federal amendment to the national constitution, providing for national prohibition. It will require the approval of thirty-six states to secure this amendment and from the present trend of events it is likely that before the end of January, and possibly sooner, the necessary number will have been attained. Not only are those states which are classed as "dry" voting for the ratification, but likewise some of the supposed "wet" states are lining up for this amendment, which if approved will put an end to the legal existence of John Barleycorn in the United States. Illinois, classed as a "wet" state, may vote in favor, as the Senate has already approved the measure and it will not be surprising if the House follows in this lead. All of the legislatures of the various states meet this month, and there is no doubt of action being taken, either one way or the other. As no state has defeated the amendment, it is safe to assume that the required number will have given their assent within a very short time.

OBSERVING REGULATIONS

The recent fire in Pittsburg in which 25 people lost their lives and [illegible] was [illegible] observed there would have been no toll of human lives, no families in mourning because of the carelessness of some one who persisted in serious violations of regulations.

There may be other instances in that big city of just as serious violations of law, and it is possible that

UNPREPARED

It now seems a pity that the allies have the end of the war did not hold a conference and decide upon the peace terms which they would impose upon the enemy. During the progress of the conflict there was mutual forbearance among the nations which were battling in the cause of freedom. There was at that time the utmost respect for the opinions of each other and no desire but to exalt the professed motives of all. A conference six months ago would have given point and purpose to the allied campaign and would have resulted in the formulation of a policy the effect of which would have been to prevent the misunderstanding and heartburnings which cloud the situation with doubt and uncertainty—Richmond Times-Dispatch.
